

Sonderveranstaltung Cosmology, strings, and new physics

ZEIT:

1.9.2013 - 13.9.2013

ORT:

Dubna, Russia

The event is organized by the Bogoliubov Laboratory of Theoretical Physics, JINR and supported by the Helmholtz Association.

The school brings together leading experts in the fields of cosmology, gravitational physics, gravity, string and particle theory with young researchers and students to foster the international experience and scientific exchange.

The lectures will be supplemented by evening discussion sessions and original talks. This manifold scientific program will be rounded off by a rich cultural and social program.

Undergraduate, postgraduate students and young postdocs are encouraged to apply for participation & travel support. The registration deadline is June 15, 2013.
